

The Office of Diversity and Inclusion Cultural Competency Lecture Series Fall Term Events

All lectures 11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

November 16

Raymond H. Herzog Professor of Science and Professor of Biology Elizabeth De Stasio

Vice President for Diversity and Inclusion and Associate Dean of Faculty Kimberly Barrett

Powerful Ways to Respond to Microaggressions, Stereotypes and Isms

Esch Hurvis Room (225)

This interactive session will discuss strategies that targets of microaggressions, stereotypes and “isms” can use to respond to bias in ways that are self-affirming and empowering. Social science research will be referenced to inform participants’ understanding of concepts related to microaggressions and stereotypes. Participants will also engage in case study and role play to practice powerful ways to respond in these situations.

Find us online and on social media!
go.lawrence.edu/diversityoffice and facebook.com/odi.lawrence

